

Request for Quotes (RFQ): Adaptation of Ontario Extend Program for Francophones

OPPORTUNITY:

eCampusOntario is seeking quotes from vendors interested in contributing to the development and adaptation of the Ontario Extend program for a French speaking audience.

BACKGROUND:

Ontario Extend is a capacity building initiative that is grounded in the belief that the impact of learning should be the primary motivator for creating technology-enabled and online learning experiences. It aims to empower educators to explore a range of emerging technologies and pedagogical practices for effective online and technology-enabled teaching and learning.

It explores the skills, knowledge, and attributes required to extend and transform our teaching and learning practices and to enrich our professional development.

The intent of these resources is to provide the basis for more deliberate course design and digital pedagogical practice.

The framework for the Ontario Extend resources is based on the model for the Anatomy of 21st Century Educators as described by Simon Bates (2014) and is supported by six modules: Teacher for Learning, Technologist, Curator, Collaborator, Experimenter and Scholar and a Domain of One's Own project.

SERVICE DESCRIPTION:

Building on existing English-to-French translated Ontario Extend materials, the successful candidate will produce a ready-to-launch French Ontario Extend Program by:

- Contextualizing existing translations for a Francophone educator audience
- Performing a literature review of existing French resources that align with the six modules
- Suggesting future adaptations to the Program to better suit needs specific to the Francophone education community
- Build a set of activities aligned to each of the Extend modules that can be delivered in various settings (online and face to face)
- Provide brief facilitator notes to support the delivery of each module for face to face cohorts
